

News and Numbers from CRRC

Issue 2 (42), March 2011

CRRC Goes Central Asia

CRRC has recently completed its first research project on access to justice in Central Asia. The project includes nationwide surveys, focus groups and in-depth interviews in Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan and Tajikistan. CRRC presented the results on the project in Almaty, Kazakhstan on February 15, 2011. The audience consisted of representatives from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Finland, various embassies, EU delegations and NGOs working on the rule of law in Central Asia. Read more...

Ask CRRC | Sample Size

Q: In the last posting you said that in order for the sample to be representative of the entire population, every member of the population had to have some chance of being selected for the sample. However, you did not say anything about sample size. Does not sample size matter? Read more...

Survey on the Level of Social Cohesion in Armenian Society

CRRC-Armenia has recently launched a project entitled "Survey on the Level of Social Cohesion in Armenian Society" with the financial support of UNDP Armenia. The project will consist of a countrywide public opinion survey with focus groups including representatives of various vulnerable groups, as well as in-depth and expert interviews. Read more...

CRRC Announces the Caucasus Barometer Report Competition!

The Caucasus Research Resource Center in Georgia is happy to announce the first Caucasus Barometer Report Competition. The competition is designed to recognize excellence in research, analysis and writing. This is a unique opportunity for those with a passion for accuracy, precision and analysis to gain recognition, have their work published, and build potentially career changing relationships with top professionals in Georgia. Read more...

UPCOMING EVENTS

- Pearce, Katy E. (2011). Convergence Through Mobile Peer-to-Peer File Sharing in the Republic of Armenia. International Journal of Communications, 5: 511-528.
- Müller, Martin. (2011). Public Opinion Toward the European Union in Georgia. Post-Soviet Affairs, 25 (1): 64-92.
- A report on religion in Georgia will be shortly available on CRRC's website.

Become a fan of CRRC on Facebook

Check out the CRRC blog

CRRC, a program of Eurasia Partnership Foundation, is a network of resource, research and training centers established in 2003 in the South Caucasus with the goal of strengthening social science research and public policy analysis in the South Caucasus. The program is supported by Carnegie Corporation of New York.

3 Kavsadze Street, Tbilisi 0179, Georgia

Tel: (995 32) 22 32 64

Website: www.crrccenters.org

Copyright © 2010